

Wyoming Stream Team Educator Training

July 15-20, 2012

Teton Science Schools, Jackson, WY

WYOMING

Join the Teacher Learning Center of Teton Science Schools for a four day water quality monitoring workshop

Stay at the Teton Science Schools' Kelly Campus

Cost is $100 per educator (includes housing, meals, equipment, and instruction)

Receive $650 worth of monitoring equipment to use with your students

2 University of Wyoming credits included

Training in: Clean Water Act, water chemistry, channel characteristics, macroinvertebrates, sampling methods and study design

- Workshop provides equipment & training to implement local water quality student monitoring projects
- Participants become members of the Wyoming Stream Team, a statewide monitoring program

- Classroom & field course culminates in a full day of 'hands-on' stream testing
- Funded by Wyoming Department of Environmental Quality & the Environmental Protection Agency

Location: Grand Teton National Park, Kelly, WY

Dates: July 15-20, 2012

Cost: $100

Register by contacting: Leslie Cook, Faculty Teacher Learning Center at leslie.cook@tetonscience.org or 307.734.3736

<http://www.wyomingstreamteam.org>